Long-time Sonora Resident Carol L. Berri, Provides Fund to Help the Humane Society of Tuolumne County (HSOTC) Continue its Mission of Saving One Animal at a Time!

Thanks to the generosity and bequeath of Sonora resident Carol L. Berri, the HSOTC's mission to help abandoned, abused and unwanted animals will continue on through the assistance of the Carol L. Berri Animal Rescue Fund. Mrs. Berri, who was born in Pasadena to Alvin and Dorothy Adams, was a Sonora resident for 47 years and married to Elmer Berri, a highway patrolman. Mrs. Berri, a school bus driver for Sonora Elementary for over 17 years, was also active in the Red Hat Society and the Antique Club of Sonora. "Mom was an avid animal lover and had a number of animals including her Shih Tzu Ollie who is with our family now," commented her son, Jeff Fiscalini.

"Thank you doesn't seem like enough for what this funding means to our shelter animals," continues Jean McClymonds, Treasurer, Board of Directors and Finance & Administrative Director for the HSOTC. "All funding that supports our cause comes in the form of donations, bequeaths, fundraising and our community-at-large, as we are not supported by any government entity, nor are we associated with the Humane Society of the United States."

People, like Carol, truly make a difference in the lives of our animals by giving us the means to provide shelter, food, medications and medical care needed while instilling a living memorial for their kindness and generosity.

"A memorial lobby brick will be placed in her honor as well as a dedication plaque in our adoption and acquaintance room in her memory," adds McClymonds.

DOG OBEDIENCE CLASSES

Does your dog need too many "time-outs"? Would you like to take advantage of Fido's (or Fida's) natural athleticism? If so, get in touch with the following schools. You may have a Ph.D. (Phantastic Dog) on your hands.

RUPTURED ANTERIOR (CRANIAL) CRUCIATE LIGAMENT

By Wendy C. Brooks, DVM, DipABVP
Educational Director, VeterinaryPartner.com

The knee is a fairly complicated joint. It consists of the femur above, the tibia below, the kneecap (or patella) in front, and the bean-like fabellae behind. Chunks of cartilage called the medial and lateral menisci fit between the femur and tibia like cushions. Assorted ligaments hold everything together and allow the knee to bend the way it should

What Happens In Surgical Repair?

Tibial Plateau Leveling Osteotomy (TPLO) (Boag's Surgery)

This procedure uses a fresh approach to the biomechanics of the knee joint and is meant to address the lack of long-term success seen in large breed dogs and more traditional surgeries, like the Extracapsular Repair. With this surgery, the tibia is cut and rotated in such a way that the natural weight bearing of the dog actually stabilizes the knee joint. As before, the knee joint still must be opened and damaged meniscus removed. The cruciate ligament remnants may or may not be removed depending on the degree of damage.

This surgery is complex and involves special training in this specific technique. Many radiographs are necessary to calculate the angle of the osteotomy (the cut in the tibia). At this time, the TPLO is felt by many experts to be the best way to repair a cruciate ligament rupture regardless of the size of the dog and is especially appropriate for dogs over 50 lbs. This surgery usually costs twice as much as the extracapsular method and requires a specialist.

Typically, most dogs are touching their toes to the ground by 10 days after surgery, although it can take up to three weeks.

As with other techniques, 8 weeks of exercise restriction are needed.

Full function is generally achieved three to four months after surgery and the dog may return to normal activity.

and keep it from bending the way it shouldn't.

There are two cruciate ligaments that cross inside the knee joint: the anterior (or, more correctly in animals, cranial) cruciate and the posterior (or, more correctly in animals, the caudal) cruciate. They are named for the side of the knee (front or back) where their lower attachment is found. The anterior cruciate ligament prevents the tibia from slipping forward out from under the femur.

Finding the Rupture

The ruptured cruciate ligament is the most common knee injury in dogs; in fact, chances are that any dog with sudden rear leg lameness has a ruptured anterior cruciate ligament rather than something else. The history usually involves a rear leg that is suddenly so sore that the dog can hardly bear weight on it. If left alone, the leg will appear to improve over the course of a week or two but the knee will be notably swollen and arthritis will set in quickly. Dogs are seen by the veterinarian in either the acute stage (shortly after the injury) or in the chronic stage (weeks or months later).

The key to the diagnosis of the ruptured cruciate ligament is the demonstration of an abnormal knee motion called a drawer sign. It is not possible for a normal knee to show this sign.

What Happens if the Cruciate Rupture is Not Surgically Repaired

Without an intact cruciate ligament, the knee is unstable. Wear between the bones and meniscal cartilage becomes abnormal, and the joint begins to develop degenerative changes. Bone spurs called osteophytes develop, resulting in chronic pain and loss of joint motion. This process can be arrested by surgery but cannot be reversed.

Osteophytes are evident as soon as one to three weeks after the rupture in some patients. This kind of joint disease is substantially more difficult for a large breed dog to bear though all dogs will ultimately show degenerative changes. Typically, after several weeks from the time of the acute injury, the dog may appear to get better but is not likely to become permanently normal.

UPDATE ON BOAG

Our appreciation goes out to all of you who have donated to Boag's medical fund. The outpouring of love and support for Boag has made all of us realize what a caring community we have....people from outside Tuolumne have also donated and we are so thankful for everyone's help.

He underwent his first knee surgery on January 9, 2012, and is recuperating at the shelter. Due to his size he needs at least two staff members to take him outside for potty breaks. We have a sling under his belly so we can lift most of his weight off his back legs. He is then brought back inside where he is kept in a padded crate to limit his movements. He is feeling better every day and is not happy his movement is restricted. He looks at us as if to say, "Why can't I come out and play?" He never gets upset...we still get lots of kisses from our sweet boy. Boag's recuperation time will be at least eight weeks.

We are still raising money for his second surgery and ongoing medications that he needs until he is fully recovered.

VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR AWARDS

Stephanie Hoffman and MaryLee Bradley were named 2011 Volunteer of the Year at our annual Volunteer Appreciation Dinner.

The presentation, honoring the recipients, was held on Sunday, December 4, 2011 in the shelter's conference center during its annual volunteer appreciation dinner.

"Both of these individuals, through their ongoing volunteerism, have shown an outstanding commitment to supporting our mission of helping abused, abandoned and unwanted animals in our community," commented Doryene Rapini, shelter Operations Director and President of the Board of Directors. "Since we have two distinct facilities supporting our cause, this year we opted to issue two volunteer awards, one for shelter operations and the other for our Purrrfect Bargains thrift boutique."

Stephanie Hoffman – Dog Walker/Socializer Volunteer

Stephanie began volunteering at the HSOTC in 2007 while attending high school. Since then, she has been coming in on weekends to help care for and socialize dogs, taking photographs and videos of our shelter residents and more recently, maintaining the shelter's Facebook social media pages.

"Both Stephanie and her twin sister Jessica do so much for our dogs...walking, playing and sitting with them in their kennels," continues Rapini. "Stephanie is our very own 'dog whisper' as she can calm the most frightened dog and is very deserving of this award."

MaryLee Bradley – Display/Staging Assistant & Merchandise Sorter Volunteer

MaryLee joined the Purrrfect Bargain's volunteer team in 2010 doing everything from cleaning and pricing to straightening and displaying store merchandise. As an avid doll collector, she takes special pride in making sure that the collectible dolls donated are in top shape from cleaning and curling their hair to repairing and mending their outfits.

"MaryLee genuinely cares about helping the store, employees and other volunteers and works tirelessly to that end," comments Kay Nordvik, Purrrfect Bargains Thrift Store Manager. "She always has a smile which, in turn, makes everyone around her smile and was a perfect choice as this year's thrift boutique honoree."

For information on how you can volunteer and a list of volunteer positions available, visit the shelter's website at hsotc.org or call 209-984-5489 for a volunteer application and handbook.

is published bi-annually by the Humane Society of Tuolumne County for the benefit of the membership. There is no charge for the newsletter. (In compliance with Public Law 103-123, U.S. C. 3656(j).)

COLLECTIBLES COLLECTING DUST?

Do you have any collectibles or high dollar items that you might think are eBay worthy? The HSOTC's online eBay auctions are just another way that we raise money for our animals. If you have something to donate, please bring it to the shelter in Jamestown or the Purrrfect Bargains Thrift Boutique in East Sonora. All donations are deductible to the extent allowed by law.

INTERESTED IN BECOMING AN INTEGRAL PART OF THE HUMANE SOCIETY OF TUOLUMNE COUNTY (HSOTC)?

You can by applying for a Board of Director position for the upcoming 2012/2013 Fiscal Year.

The HSOTC is seeking applications for Board members who understand and support the mission and core values of the HSOTC; can play an active role on the HSOTC Board; support the HSOTC's fundraising efforts and individual giving campaign, accept the HSOTC's standards of excellence and have demonstrated a commitment to improving the effectiveness of our nonprofit organization.

Additionally, Board candidates must be cognizant of the unique yet complementary roles each Board member plays in serving the needs of our shelter animals. Board candidates must be committed to attend and participate in Board meetings, policy setting, fundraising efforts, membership recruitment and other work as deemed necessary.

We're looking for Board members with strong strategic thinking, untraditional vision and problem solving capabilities. In evaluating candidates for Board positions, the following criteria are considered (although candidates are not expected to meet all criteria). These criteria along with Board diversity are given considerable weight in the overall selection process.

Functional Expertise

- Past experience in an animal-related field
- General understanding of nonprofit structure and management
- Prior nonprofit or Board experience
- Prestige within the industry and community

Governance/Management Expertise

- Demonstrated interest in advancing the HSOTC's mission, programs and membership
- Values are consistent with the HSOTC's core principles
- Recognition of fiduciary responsibility of the HSOTC
- Availability and flexibility to participate and commit time
- Authority to make decisions and act on behalf of the HSOTC

Personal Qualities

- Results oriented
- Visionary scholar
- Strategic planning ability
- Strong problem solving/decision-making skills
- Open-minded/creative thinker
- Team player
- Ethics and integrity

The Board of Director role is to serve a two-year term by leading, advising and supporting the activities of the HSOTC. Each Board of Director participates by:

- Attending all Board meetings, prepared to further the success of the HSOTC and to support the HSOTC's mission statement and goals
- Monitoring and mentoring standing committees as assigned and on an as needed basis providing advice, encouragement and voice for the committee to the Board
- Responsible for identifying and nominating candidates to the Board for vacant board positions
- Accepting special assignments designated by the committee chairs
- Remaining current on the activities of the HSOTC by following industry publications (includes electronic, print and virtual), issues and interests
- Being cognizant of current issues affecting the nonprofit sector as it relates to the mission of the HSOTC, its members or community at large
- Informing the Board and staying proactive in helping position the HSOTC to support its members or to enhance its funding sources.
- Acting as a role model, change agent and professional exemplar

This is an exceptional opportunity to help foster the growth and development of the HSOTC while aiding in facilitating and promoting our efforts - the adoption of companion animals and ensuring food, shelter, exercise, medical care, vaccinations and love until our residents find their forever homes.

If you're interested in learning more and/or applying for a position, please complete the information on the Board Application Form available online at hsotc.org and e-mail your application to shelter@hsotc.org. Or you can mail it to HSOTC, PO Box 830, Jamestown, CA 95327 or simple drop it off at our shelter located at 10440 Victoria Way, Jamestown, CA 95370. All applications must be received by 05/18/2012 to be considered for the 2012/2013 fiscal year.

2012 YOUTH ART POSTER CONTEST

This year we're asking young people to join in raising awareness of the Humane Society of Tuolumne County (HSOTC) and the animals in our care by submitting an animal-related art poster!

We're looking for colorful paintings, drawings, sketches, collage or any other original illustration that celebrates the human-animal bond.

Students from grades Kindergarten through 12th are invited to create a poster portraying one or more of the following:

- What animals mean to you
- Why animals are important in our lives
- How animals enrich our lives
- A positive connection between people and their pets

Delivery and Deadline:

All posters must be received by March 17, 2012. Winners will be announced in April 2012. Posters can be delivered to our shelter located at 10440 Victoria Way in Jamestown or mailed to:

2012 Youth Art Poster Contest
Humane Society of Tuolumne County
PO Box 830 • Jamestown, CA 95327

Entry Rules:

1. Contest is open to Kindergarten through 12th grade and will be judged based on grade level (Kindergarten, Elementary, Middle and High School).
2. Poster size can vary from an 8.5" x 11" up to an 11" x 17".
3. Students may use any media: paint, ink, crayon, computer-generated, photography or collage.
4. Art must be the artist's original work: no tracing, clip or pre-illustrated computer art.
5. No collaborative entries including adults (such as parents, siblings or teachers).
6. All entries must include a copy of the entry form with each entry. Do not write directly on the entry nor permanently affix the entry form to the artwork.
7. Inclusion in the contest is based on the discretion of the HSOTC. No images depicting violence toward animals or pet overpopulation will be accepted.

Prizes:

- 1st Place: Animal Inspired Backpack and $25.00 gift card
2nd Place: HSOTC t-shirt and $25.00 gift card
3rd Place: HSOTC calendar and $10.00 gift card

HSOTC MEMBERS HELP TO MAKE OUR PLEDGE-TO-GIVE PROGRAM A SUCCESS!

Ongoing giving is a cost-effective, reliable and consistent source of funding for the HSOTC. Recently we asked you, our valued members, to become a part of our sustaining Pledge-to-Give (PTG) donation program and you responded! Through your recurring PTG donations - made monthly, quarterly, bi-annually or annually – allows us to more effectively direct your financial support to provide food, transportation and vital veterinary care for our shelter residents throughout the year. In addition, it allows us to respond immediately to unpredictable emergencies. It's easy, flexible, convenient and makes a huge difference in helping us fulfill our mission. We want to personally recognize all those individuals and businesses that helped us meet and exceed our goal!

S.H.A.R.E.S.

Save Mart has generously entered us into their Supporting Humanities, Arts, Recreation, Education and Sports program. By obtaining a S.H.A.R.E.S. card, available at the HSOTC shelter, and swiping it, Save Mart will donate 3% of qualified purchases to the Humane Society.

PURRRFECT BARGAINS THRIFT BOUTIQUE

Our Thrift Boutique continues to be a success. Humane Society members who shop at the store receive a 15% discount on all purchased items, regardless of the tagged price and the number of items bought.

Located at 14317 Mono Way, Suites D-F in East Sonora. Purrrfect Bargains business hours are Monday through Friday from 9:30AM to 5:00PM and Saturday from 9:00AM to 4:00PM. The phone number is 209-533-2963.

We're Hungry! Please Feed the Kitty and the Doggie

These cash repositories are available all around town. When you see them, please take the time to feed them and continue to patronize the many wonderful local businesses who allow us to display them. Used to raise funds for the Spay/Neuter Organization, the banks accept loose change as well as folding money and checks. Of course, if you don't find the doggie and kitty in town you can always make a donation using the form on the back page.

NEED A ROOM FOR YOUR MEETING?

The HSOTC Conference Room Could be the Purrfect Choice!

Our large 1829-square foot conference meeting room is available for rental and seats approximately 120 people with tables and chairs. A service kitchen is adjacent to the room and included in the rental fee. The meeting room can be used for business or group meetings, family reunions, weddings, anniversaries, graduations, birthdays and much, much more.

Take advantage of our highly competitive pricing, with flexible packages structured around your individual requirements. Conveniently located just off of Highway 108, the facility ensures the best service for you and your participants. Want to learn more? Simply pick-up our Conference Room Rental brochure or call 209-984-5489 for more information and availability.

CREATE A LIVING MEMORIAL THROUGH YOUR BEQUEATH

A bequest is one of the oldest methods of supporting non-profits. The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty of Animals (ASPCA) received one of the first bequests explicitly designated for an endowment. In 1867, Benjamin Hicks left his estate to his mother, with the stipulation that on her death, $40,000 went to the society...in addition, his mother left her own bequest. In today's dollars these gifts would be worth over $350,000.

Anyone can make a bequest. All that is required is that you are alive and of sound mind when you make your will or living trust, and that you own something that you can't take with you. All bequests are revocable during your life because you can change your will or trust as often as you want.

Interesting in learning how you can help make a difference in our shelter animal's lives through a bequeath? For more information we have an Estate Planning brochure at our Jamestown shelter or call 209-984-5489 for additional information.
